Consolidation Defeated in Carpathia S.D. by 1

Breezelets

The first gopher and robin have been seen.

But the first spring poem hasn't reached our sanctum yet.

In time of snow prepare for slush.

It is reported that a movement has started in London to induce all men to wear kilts.

Perhaps it is in the interest of cloth economy.

The latest epidemic of plain and fancy plotting in behalf of Germany seems to have been much less severe than several which preceded it.

Detectives are smart, but the collectors are the ones who most often find people out.

The New Jersey assemblymen have passed a bill imposing a license fee on all cats.

It was contended by some that the wearing of a license tag would endanger the cat if the tag were at all valuable.

In that case it would be quite a serious cat-astrophe to both Mr. Thomas and Mrs. Tabby.

The man who jumps at conclusions frequently discovers that he has taken the wrong exercise.

If Dante were alive to-day he could get some ideas for a new "Inferno" in the vicinity of Verdun.

It looks as though the Huns have succeeded at last in getting Uncle Sam in the war game.

While the men are entrenching the women and children have to be retrenching.

When some men have the grip they are cross and grouchy and disagreeable about the house. And when they do not have the grip they are cross and grouchy and disagreeable about the house.

Glancing at the advertisements in a motoring journal, we noticed that one gentleman announced himself as a stockist of all motoring things.

We are not quite sure what he means by "stockist," but what is the matter with plain English, anyway.

Program of Rare Merit

BY THE MACKENZIE GROVER CO.

The concert held here on Tuesday evening was the best ever given by a visiting company of artists. From the first to the last number on the programme the interest of the large audience was completely held. It was a clean, refined, and humorous entertainment, and yet at times intensely pathetic. Miss Glover's portrayal of the "Potion Scene" in Shakespeare's immortal Romeo and Juliet was very realistic and elicited much applause. The scene from the Scottish comedy, "The Bonnie Fishwife," with Miss Glover as "Maggie MacFarlane" and Mr. MacKenzie as "Wild Oats," was very cleverly portrayed. The humorous duets by Miss Glover and Mr. MacKenzie were humorous to a degree, and "brought down the house," as also the "Cracks About Folk—Maistry Scotch." The whole programme could not have better rendered even by a more pretentious troupe of artists, playing to city audiences. The last number on the programme was a double Highland Fling by Miss Glover and Mr. MacKenzie, which was a fine ending to a very fine programme. Should this company visit Chinook again, we bespeak for them a bumper house.

Probably the refusal of Germany to admit that the Lusitania murders were "illegal" is due to the failure of Germany to understand the meaning of such a term.

Cow-ardly Work

AND A MAN FOUND WITH A "CONSCIENCE" (?)

To emphasise the need of a resident veterinary in Chinook, an incident came to our notice last week, which should speed up our board of trade into getting a vet. just as soon as possible. A farmer living a few miles from here had the unpleasant experience of having a cow shot by some unknown person. A veterinary was wired for from a neighboring town, some 50 miles away (return railway fare between $2.00 and $3.00). After superficially "viewing" the body of the animal, which had died before his arrival, we understand it cost the owner of the dead bovine the small sum of $60.00—or the price within a few dollars of a good cow—for the "valuable" services of the vet. The vet, we are told, had another case or two in the district, and that the same proportionate fees were charged. Conscience!

Farmers, This is for You

There seems every probability that there will be a great shortage of farm help this spring and fall. To help to meet this shortage the C.N.R. are giving a one-cent-a-mile rate from the U.S. If the farmers in this district who are likely to need help will kindly leave their names and the number of men required with the president of the Chinook board of trade, E. B. Mills, who will be found in Arm's block, arrangements will be made to meet the shortage as far as possible.

DESTROY THE EARLY FLY

The bright sunny days of March and April are an inducement for the housefly to appear. An early start in destroying these pests should be made on the first fly seen, and the good work should be consistently and effectively carried on. The destruction of the early fly will mean the saving of valuable lives, as there is no more persistent carrier and distributor of disease than the house fly.

Before marriage he would have taken off his overcoat to keep her warm and comfortable, but now the old scamp can lie calmly abed on the coldest morning and watch her make the fires without batting an eye.

DRAFTED MEN

AND THE WAR

IN every country the volunteer soldier has the place of honor, and quite properly. It is a noble and glorious thing to watch the great, pure undefiled well-spring of patriotic love for native land send men from hearth and home, from humble cottage and stately palace, from the mill and shop, the counting room and college, to the grim and gory battlefield to fight and die if need be for all that makes life worth living. But when first volunteers are killed or disabled and it is found that there are not enough volunteers then it is necessary to compel men to fight for their country by means of a draft such as they are putting into force in Great Britain. The drafted men are apt to prove just as good defenders for their country as the volunteers, and may prove the one thing needed to give the victory.

It has been said that without the drafted men in the American civil war it is doubtful if the immortal Lincoln and his valiant generals could have carried the sacred cause of freedom to a successful conclusion.

In view of this fact and in view of the other facts in connection with the wars of the past hundred years it seems a bit odd that there should persist such a strong opposition to make every able bodied man in Great Britain—and the Empire, for that matter—do his share in military training for his country's defence, just as he is liable to take his chance of doing jury duty.

A gentleman is a man who does not have to be reminded that there are ladies present.

Easter may be determined by the rule that it is the first Sunday after the full moon that falls on or after March 21. This year April 25 will be the Easter Sunday, and, with the exception of one or two years when Easter Sunday has fallen on April 20, it is by far the latest since 1886. Thirty years ago it fell on April 29th.

So fine is the weather at present that many farmers in this district are preparing to get on the land. Some already have made a start.

In some parts of Alaska, a dispatch says, water sells at a dollar a barrel. Beer is not quoted.

Chinook Breezes

Autos are much in evidence in and around town the past week.

J. A. McColl, M.P.P., was home from Edmonton for a few days this week.

The box social in the church on the 17th was a very enjoyable affair.

J. M. Davis spent eight or ten days at Nanton, his former home returning to Chinook last week.

Mr. Carl Thorsrud who spent winter at his home at Sacred Heart, Minn., returned here last week, going out to Collholme.

Mr. W. S. Ritchie, representing the Canadian Northern Town Properties Co., was in town on Monday.

Mrs. Clarence Rideout, formerly Miss Amber Fowler, of Calgary has taken up her residence at 326 Fourth street northwest, Medicine Hat.—News-Telegram.

Mr. Geo. Buchanan and young son, who has been in Cayley the past few months, returned to Chinook on Saturday of last week to look after the shipping of his grain.

Last of the Season

On Friday evening of this week will close the "literary evenings" for this season. A good program is being prepared.

A Young Patriot

Gerald Stacey, son of Mr W.D. Stacey of Hanna, has enlisted with the 175th O.S. Battalion, Medicine Hat.

Probably Will be Sorry Later

Consolidation, to join with the Chinook consolidation, was defeated in the Carpathia school district on Monday by one vote. The action of Carpathia does not affect the Chinook consolidation scheme.

Enters a Law Office

R. W. Ure of Youngstown, but who is known around Chinook, was in town on Tuesday. Mr. Ure has articulated himself with his father, Robert Ure, M.A., LL.B., barrister, &c., and will be at the Youngstown branch, head office being at Calgary.

Will Visit Chinook Every Saturday

Mr. J. W. Crockett, Jeweller and Optician, of Cereal, made his initial visit to Chinook last week, and he intends to visit here every Saturday, at the old drug store. Repair work will receive prompt attention.

Work can be left at this office.

Decision of Grain Board

RE GIVING OUT CARS

Board of grain commissioners will not give cars out of turn except in cases specifically provided in the grain act. This is the decision of the board after going into the applications which are pouring in at the present time at the rate of 50 to 100 per day, and they are applications for cars for grain that is unhoosed or that is stored in temporary bins without floors. The board's authority is contained in the following words of section 207:

"The board may in its discretion order cars to be supplied contrary to the provisions of this part: (1) to elevators that are in danger of collapse, (2) to places where grain is damp and thereby liable to become damaged, (3) for the purpose of distributing seed grain to any point in the western division, (4) in cases where the operator of any country elevator reports in writing under oath that some portion of the grain in such elevator is heated and that in order to preserve such grain it is necessary to ship such grain to the terminal elevator for treatment, provided, however, that no relief shall be granted in such last mentioned case as long as the warehouseman has sufficient room in his building for the re-handling of such grain."

This provision in (2) relates to places where grain is damp. It does not authorize the board to give cars where grain is dry and where there is a probability of its becoming damp. In view of the fact that this matter is engaging the attention of parliament and of the west, and in view of the fact that there is legislation being obtained, the board considers it advisable to await the action of parliament on the matter and in the meantime to abide by the letter of the law.

An official statement, showing the strength of the Canadian expeditionary force actually in training in Canada on March 1, has just been issued by the militia department. An interesting feature of the report is that there are 4,936 officers and 120,393 men in training in this country. The number of men in Canada is less than half the total number of men enlisted in the Dominion, which is 263,111. The balance are overseas.

A Slight Mistake.

An engagement between a handsome young Philadelphia woman and an impetuous young man about born was suspended several weeks recently because of a slight mistake by a boy in the florist shop where the young man was in the habit of buying blooms for his prospective bride. Being in a hurry one morning, the young man hastily pencilled two cards to the florist. One was a brief compliment to his sweetheart to go with the flowers, and the other was directed to the florist. It read: "Do the best you can for 75 cents."
The mistake occurred when this card was attached to the flowers.

Chinks Do Well in Jamaica.

Jamaica appears to be a commodial paradise for the Chinese. Another batch of twenty, mostly cabin passengers, arrived at New York recently from Kingston by the steamship Cuba. They have made their bills and are bound by way of the Pacific to Hong Kong to spend the rest of their days living on their wings.

A LESSON IN MANNERS.

Go Way a Clever American Woman Managed a Duke.

A story which belongs to a time several years ago when an English duke was a much sought after personage in New York society is told by Mr. James
L. Ford in "The Brazen Calf."
This duke, contemptuously noting the eagerness with which New York ers fawned upon him, had formed the habit of going out to dinner without troubling himself to put on evening dress. A lady had invited him to dinner without knowing of this peculi-arity and was awaiting his arrival when her butler opened the door and cast a glance at her over the heads of intervening guests which said plainly that something was wrong.

She hastened into the hall to find the duke standing there clad in the checked sack suit and flaming red tie which had seemed to him "good enough" for a dinner party of American calf worshippers. This woman, however, had presence of mind, and she advanced upon him radiant and smiling.

"No," she said decisively as she took him by the hand; "I won't accept any excuses. You've come round to tell me why it is that you can't dine here tonight, and it's ever so much nicer of you to do that than just to send a note
The dinner's a little late, and you've just time to go home and dress and be back here before we begin."

The nobleman opened his mouth to reply, but his hostess shut him off in a second: "No; you needn't make any explanations or excuses. Remember, you're only twenty minutes, so you must hurry."

A moment later the astonished duke found himself hurrying toward his hotel and perhaps wondering what new social force it was that was impelling him in that direction.

Variety the Spice of the Spring Hats

Grass Linen With Chiffon Overbrim

SINCE the hair is woman's crowning glory, it is quite essential that over the crown she should wear a hat which emphasizes the beauty of her valuable asset. It will be a woman's own fault if she wears an unbecoming hat this spring. She has such a variety of shapes, colors and sizes from which to choose that she should not go wrong in her selection.

Something different in the way of material for the making of hats is grass linen. This material closely resembles that used in the helmet-shaped hats worn by tourists—you know, those straw-colored affairs lined with green. The grass-linen hat is ecru colored and is enlivened by a few red cherries placed on either side of the brim. Incongruous as it may seem to use chiffon with linen, one cannot help admiring the distinction the hat gains by having an overbrim of the filmy material.

There is no telling how high the crowns of hats may reach, but the close-fitting model shown has been rather timid about going too far. To make up for its shyness it has taken unto itself an unusual way of arranging straw braid. Of course, the strips of straw do something toward making the crown seem higher. Velvet fruit, which is the season's new note in millinery fields, adds brightness to the modest gray straw.

Satin straw is quite a favorite. Here it is used for a turban which can justly be called generally becoming. Notice how out of proportion the quills are with the size of the hat. This is a prominent feature of many straw hats. The color scheme is sure to please any one who is particular about the proper blending of colors.

It is quite noticeable that straw and fabric are strong allies. Frequently the two materials are of the same color, but very often they are made conspicuous by a strong contrast. Light-green crepe de chine has been used for the large, picturesque hat with a dark-green facing and band trimming. The same combination of colors is used for the ornament. Dark-green leaves surround light-green pressed fruit. The use of pressed fruit on hats is very popular. One finds that fruit has been pressed in all stages of its development, from the unripe to the very ripe products, thus giving splendid opportunity for using a variety of colors.

A close-fitting turban which will be found comfortable on the windy days to come is of white straw. The brim is faced with white crepe de chine. A touch of color is given it by the canary which is placed in an uncommon position at the back of the hat. The bands of yellow straw encircling the crown and brim do much to accentuate the whiteness of the hat.

May Get Here Any Old Time Now

"Saskatoon is in the grip of a big snow blizzard," reads a news item this morning. This blizzard is heading in this direction, and by the looks and feeling of things
this morning it might strike
Chinook any old time.

Had a Good Time

by the ladies' aid of the Methodist church, Cereal, on the 17th inst., was a great success and a very enjoyable affair. We were expecting a full report of this for publication, but up to going to press none has reached us.

A Very Successful Sale

The auction sale of cattle and horses, the property of J. A. Mc-Call, M.P.P., on Monday, drew a big crowd. The cattle, considering the terms were cash, brought pretty fair prices; but the prices for the horses soared up and were out of sight. The horses were a classy bunch. J. M. Davis was the auctioneer.

Have Troubles of Their Own

The C.N.R. is having troubles of its own this winter. Scarcely a week has passed without some considerable delay in the passenger service, particularly from the east on this branch, caused by snow blockades and the washing away of culverts. Yesterday morning's train from the east was some twenty hours late, having run into a heavy snow drift.
